Rain Great Help To Crops Over District

Coming in a very critical time, the week end rain, which totalled about one and a quarter inches saved the situation so far as the grain crops, especially on dry land were concerned. Reports varied as to the moisture condition of the crops, but it was generally agreed that they were deteriorating every day, and then the rains came. Starting about 7 p.m. Friday night, the rain fell fairly steadily all night and continued until nearly noon Saturday without a let up, everything receiving a glorious soaking. In the afternoon the clouds broke up in places and toward evening the sun was shining a little. A few drops of rain fell at different times Sunday, but mostly the storm was finished by Saturday at noon.

Of all the storms of this crop year, this one was possibly most appreciated, as it changed a rather dreary outlook into the prospects of at least an average or better crop. The second crop of alfalfa had mostly been taken off, and the rain will give the third crop a splendid start toward another heavy cutting like the first one was. Pastures will be greatly benefited and even cured prairie grass will be much better winter feed as a result of the rain.

Truly it was the million dollar rain we had all been hoping for during the three or four weeks preceding its arrival. It came when the weather was cool and no fear of hail, and it came slow enough to soak in and down to the roots of the crops where it would do the most good.

WEDDING BELLS

BROWN — SUDO

Elsie, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sudo and Stanley, third son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brown, all of Raymond, were married in Lethbridge on July 15th. After a honeymoon at Banff and intermediate points, the young couple will make their home on the groom's farm south of Raymond.

The best wishes of their many friends in Raymond and district are extended to the young couple for a long and happy married life.

Ed. MacTaggart, Duane Wiggill and Douglas Hague left Sunday for Medicine Hat, where they entered the Government Training School for aero mechanics. "Rudy" of the Raymond Motors, who took them down, says they are nicely located and happy as boys can be.

Local Girl Places In Essay Contest

Miss Yukie Mishimura, local Japanese girl, is receiving congratulations from her friends in her success at winning third prize in a Canadian wide essay contest on "Why Canada and Japan Should be More Friendly." Yukie as she is known to her many friends placed third and should feel proud of her achievement.

Miss Nishimura finished her Grade Twelve work this year, and her achievement is all the more noteworthy because of the fact that the first and second place winners were college graduates. We hope to publish the essay in full in an early issue of the Recorder. The contest was sponsored by the Vancouver Sun, big daily of the coast city.

CANADIAN RED

CROSS NEWS

With many summer days yet to come, the Canadian Red Cross Society is already thinking in terms of Fall and Winter, and women all over the country are urged to knit gloves, mittens, caps and helmets for men of all branches of the active service.

"These articles will be needed by the thousands," Mrs. Wallace Campbell, national chairman of the Women's War Work Committee, said yesterday. "In these days of warm weather, some might find it hard to concentrate on the need for woollen gloves and helmets, but the Canadian Red Cross must continue its policy of being prepared and fully equipped to meet any emergency."

The same all service wool used for socks may be used for gloves, mittens, helmets and caps, Mrs. Campbell said. Instructions for all types of these articles are in the Red Cross Knitting Book and should be followed carefully.

"We must, of course, keep current with the year round demand for socks," Mrs. Campbell said, "but gloves and helmets must also claim a great deal of our attention. All through the months since war was declared, we have been able to meet every emergency at home and overseas for the simple reason that the women of Canada have been making the articles we need most rather than the things they themselves like to make."

HELP THE REGISTRATION

There are many ways in which you can help the work of national registration. First, of course register, and register early.

It is anticipated that eight million people will register during the three days—August 19, 20 and 21. That is not quite twice the number who polled their votes in the last election, but it's fairly close to it.

Perhaps the deputy registrar in your own territory could use your services. You might help on the day of registration.

It ought to be a matter of honor in this particular district to have the registration as full and complete as possible.

D. G. Selman has been building an addition to his home, and has it nearly completed now.

NEW BOOKS AT LIBRARY

"Saga of Cimba"; "Some Buried Ceasar"; "Romance in the Rain"; "Lawless Legion"; "Miracle at Gopher Creek" (4 vols.); "American Songbag"; "World is like That"; "Master at Arms"; "Roman Fountain"; "Bird in the Tree"; "Men, Martyrs and Mountebanks"; "Open Verdict"; "Betsy Goes A Visiting"; "King's Row."

INSPECTION NEXT FRIDAY

Capt. R.B. McKenzie, in charge of the local militia unit now training, will be here Friday evening of next week on a regular inspection visit. The number now enlisted is 20, and there are another 10 or 12 about to sign up.

The boys have been making good progress in their work, and Sergeant Dyson, local drill master is well pleased with the response he is getting from the boys.

Williams of the General Presidency of the Y.W.M.I.A. with Sisters Della Wetzel and Anderson assisting in the various departments.

During the convention session all departments of Mutual work such as Music, Arts, Dancing, Drama, Speech, Boy Scout and Girl Guide, M. Men and Gleaner work all came in for their share of discussion and Sunday evening, as a grand finale to the convention, both Raymond wards met together with all the Mutual officers who were to stay in a joint meeting in the Stake House. The large hall was filled to the doors with the congregation, who listened interestedly to the speakers, and especially to Elders Morris and Giles in the faith promoting talks and incidents of Mormon history they related.

Pres. T. Geo. Wood took charge of this meeting, & special musical numbers were given by Mrs. J. A. Ririe and her four daughters on the piano and stringed instruments; Violin solo by Nyal Fletcher, and a vocal trio by Mesdames J. H. Waker and L. D. King and Miss Dorot by Nurse. The singing was furnished by the Stake Choir, directed by Wm. Stone. F. Donald Merrill, Stake President of the Taylor Stake Y. M. M. I. A. had charge of the convention sessions.

NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Heber P. Allen and family are spending a week at Waterton Park.

Henry Ehler put the first coat of stucco on Heber, Ken dall's house last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Anderson and family are spending a week in the Edmonton district on a holiday trip. Jimmy's folks live in that part of the province.

Jesse Wilde is running the foundation now for a new two storey home on his farm one mile east of Welling. The house will be 28x43 feet. We understand Jimmy Anderson is lining up the plumbing for the new home.

There was only a fair attendance at Rotary on Monday night, a number being away on holiday. The Community Service Committee had charge of the program and presented a variety of items from the Rotarian showing what individuals had done and could do for their communities.

600 Attend Ward Outing

Organized by the Mutual officers, the Ward Outing of the Raymond Second Ward held Wednesday afternoon and evening was a decided success, and was attended by more than 600 people during the afternoon and evening.

Gathering at old Fort Whoop Up at 3:30, the remainder of the afternoon was spent in singing, softball, horseshoe playing, killing rattle snakes and so on, the various groups finding their own diversion for the afternoon, all supervised by various ones allotted these responsibilities. At 6 p.m. supper was served, or we should say eaten, as every family brought their own prepared lunch.

A couple of Softball games followed the lunch hour, and then as the shadows began to lengthen, the crowd gathered around the campfire for the program, given under the chairmanship of Miss Iris Jones, assisted by others, and was as follows:

Community singing, conducted by Miss Dorothy Nurse and Milton Strong.

The Canadian Sugar Factories Limited received a new steam turbine for installation at the local factory. The turbine came from England.

Arthur McMullin and family of Edmonton spent Saturday & Sunday in Raymond with the A. L. McMullin family returning home on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Quinson and Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Quinson of Cadston were Raymond visitors with relatives last Sunday.

Stan Bennett and some of the Christian boys returned the end of the week from a week's holiday at the Belly River Lakes.

Les Palmer says he didn't think bases were so far apart until he smashed out a two bagger (long enough we were told for a home run) and tried to put on a burst of speed to make second. The burst was good, but the speed, well, you tell it.

Invocation by L. L. Palmer of the Bishopric.

Concertina Solo by Rhinold Thur.

Retold Indian Story by Mrs. J. H. Walker.

Vocal Duett by Misses Alice and Lois Court.

Reading by Ronda Dahl assisted by his daughter Janet and Miss Mela King.

Vocal Solo by Miss Lois Court.

Reading by Geo. Brewerton. Two vocal solos by Roy How and with Guitar accompaniment played by himself. He also accompanied the Court sisters in their numbers.

Short talk by Bishop J. H. Walker.

Benediction by Wilford A. Heninger of the Bishopric.

It was between eleven o'clock and midnight when the ward members arrived home.

These outings we understand are to be an annual affair in each ward, and judged by the success of this first one in the 2nd Ward, they are going to be the outstanding social event of the year for members of the wards as a whole.

IMPROVEMENTS AT LOCAL ELEVATORS

Repair crews of Voss Bros. who specialize in elevator work have been in Raymond during the past few weeks making improvements and alterations in some of the local houses.

Starting at the Parish and Heimecker elevators, they installed a new and much larger pan under the scales, which were changed last year to one of the bigger and newer model scales. Then while they were working the leg had to be changed, so instead of repairing the old one, they put in a complete new leg, and made several other changes in the weighing conveniences of the elevator which will make it better and more convenient for customers of the elevator.

At the Bawlf a new scale was installed and several other floor changes in connection with this alteration has made this elevator an added asset to the grain handling facilities of the town.

So far as we know all the elevators are now equipped with the large scale, long balance floor and quicker weighing facilities to speed up operations and to take care of the biggest trucks on the road today.

NEWS NOTES

Miss Fern Cooper of Cardston is spending a few days here with the Reg. Cooper family. She came down from Cardston on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Larson, old timers of the district celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary yesterday. Congratulations to them. We will have a full report next week.

Pres. Frank R. Taylor and Secretary Moses Fremma left Sunday afternoon by train for Swift Current, Sask., to attend the President's and Secretary's Assembly. They return home Tuesday evening.

The Softball game Monday night was a very interesting encounter. The teams played even most of the way though and at the ninth were tied at 5 all. The Lethbridge team came thru in the pinches and scored three runs that frame to end the battle with an 8-5 score.

The Vets held a regular meeting Wednesday night. Routine matters occupied the time, and it was decided to sell tickets for a show Thursday of next week to raise funds for local purposes. Only the bare expenses of the evening will be deducted and the remainder turned over to the organization.

Grade XII students of the local school received their returns on their final papers, the first of the week and have been congratulating and consoling each other on their successes and failures ever since. Only a few so far as we have heard received a clear pass on all subjects.

Hubert P. Strong and son Charles of Camrose, after spending part of their holiday at Vanconver, spent a brief visit with Chas. B. Strong and children here in Raymond. Along with his C.P.R. work at Camrose, Hubert has a large class of young men studying Wireless and Telegraphy. When they complete their course and examinations, all of them will be prepared for active service for their country.

The 2nd Ward Church was well filled Friday afternoon when friends from all over Southern Alberta met to pay their respects to the late Frank T. Holt, who passed away so unexpectedly last week on the road north of Lethbridge. Floral tributes covered the coffin and the rostrum, silent tributes to the memory of a man who never refused assistance to those in need and who always assisted in donations and contributions in any Church activity.

The services were conducted by Bishop James H. Walker, and Jos. McLean conducted the choir, made up of the members of both Ward Choirs. "Face to Face" was rendered by Mrs. O. Burr of Lethbridge and Jos. McLean sang "Goin' Home" as the special numbers of the program.

Invocation was by Elder T. O. King and Patriarch C. H. Snow offered the benediction.

Elder C. E. Allred, the first speaker referred to his acquaintance with deceased which dated back to 1903 when Frank Holt first came to Canada. He felt honored in being asked to speak at these services. In all his associations with deceased he had found him honest and honorable. He never knew him to refuse assistance where it was needed, and many he had received aid were still indebted to this man for the help that had been received.

Jas. S. Anderson preached a fine sermon on the resurrection, and the various glories which are prepared in eternity for the children of Our Father in Heaven. He spoke of the reward awaiting the obedient, and said that truly this life was the time for men to prepare to meet God.

A large cortege followed the remains to the cemetery where interment was made with Christensen Bros. of Lethbridge in charge.

IMPROVEMENTS AT LOCAL SCHOOLS

Carpenters are busy at the Public and High Schools now, making alterations and improvements, preparatory to opening of the schools for the fall term. The tender of C. W. Lamb was the one accepted from those submitted to the Board and he is busy now with his help carrying out the work to be done.

At the High School the Auditorium, which for so many years has been used for the First Ward Church services is being fitted up to house the Domestic Science and Manual Training departments of the school, and wiring, stoves, tools, etc., are all being permanently located here for this work. The old gymnasium which for the past two or three years has been used for Domestic Science and Shop work is being repaired now, redecorated and will be used as a gain for gymnasium work. While the Opera House has served fairly well for gymnasium work, it being removed from the main building has created a lot of inconvenience for physical training work, and the Board feel that a great deal more can be accomplished if the gym is used again in connection with the School.

In the Public School new floors are being laid in the halls and in some of the class rooms and repair work being done where necessary. All the work will be finished by the 15th of August and will be all ready for the opening of School early in September.

BE SURE AND REGISTER

On August 19, 20 and 21, Canada is going to have a stock taking of her human power. In those three days she hopes to register every male and female over the age of 16 throughout this broad Dominion. To end and all, we say "be sure and register."

This is a gigantic undertaking. To get a detailed answer to the eighteen questions asked in three days from the 8,000,000 people whom it is estimated will be asked to register, is a herculean task, and yet, if people will cooperate, if sufficient volunteers will assist, & necessary information be obtained by all the task will be quickly and completely finished by each individual within the allotted time.

To assist, and that all may know what questions will be asked, also, carrying all the questions are being inserted this week in the daily and weekly press of the Dominion. Make it a point to get a copy containing these ads, and study them. When you go to the registration centre these questions MUST be answered. If you have not the information at hand, get busy before registration date and get the facts. Guesses are not what the Government wants, it wants the facts.

Some people have the mistaken idea that compliance with the requests of this registration will in some manner make them more liable for military duty. This is entirely wrong and any such idea should be abandoned at once. Every loyal Canadian wants to render the greatest possible service to his or her country in its need. To do this one should serve where the need is most felt. If a person were a poor farmer but an excellent mechanic, it would be foolish to keep on farming if a need arose for a good mechanic. It works the other way too. If a man were a good farmer, and could also drive a truck, if farm products were needed, it would be foolish to take this good farmer for a truck driver and have a poor farmer take the land.

So it is all the way round in this registration. There are few who can only do one thing. There are, however, some who can do several things, but are following one for a livelihood. If the need arises for a person to leave their vocation and pursue an avocation in the fight for freedom that is what we want to do, and that is the purpose of the registration is to catalogue we Canadians so that we may be put where our service can accomplish the greatest good in the protection of our homes and country.

Heavy fines are provided for non registration and for giving false information. We are sure that if the purpose is fully understood that every person will be willing and anxious to register and leave the information on file for the use of the Government now and in the future.

ALL ELEVATORS WILL SELL WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

All elevator agents will assist in the sale of war savings certificates to farmers throughout Western Canada at more than 4,500 country elevators operated by Line Companies, Pools and the United Grain Growers, it was announced today.

Facilities will be arranged whereby a farmer when delivering grain to the elevator will be enabled to have a cash grain ticket made out direct to the Government for whatever amount of War Savings Certificate he wishes to purchase. This ticket will then be forwarded to Ottawa by the elevator agent and the farmer will receive his War bond direct from Ottawa.

E. J. Tarr, K. C., chairman of the War Savings Committee for Manitoba, expressed appreciation for the cooperation of the Elevator Companies for making available more than 4,500 additional sales outlets in rural areas of the Western Provinces. He urged all farmers who wished to participate in this war effort to arrange the purchase of their certificates at country elevators.

NEWS NOTES

Mountain View received a total of 3.25 inches of rain during the week end storm which brought us one inch and a quarter.

Alberta will have no Provincial bank for the present at least. After considerable study, during which Provincial Treasurer Solon Low appeared before the Banking Committee of the House of Commons at Ottawa, it was decided not to grant any charter for the setting up of an Alberta Provincial bank. Naturally there was rejoicing by some and mourning on the part of others over the decision.

NEWS NOTES

Paul Moreland finished his winter wheat harvest just before the rain. He got an average of about 17 bushels per acre.

Lumber dealers are fearing an acute lumber shortage when farmers commence the erection of bins for this year's crop. Lumber mills are working night and day to try and fill orders, but mill owners have received notice that British War orders must come first, Canadian government orders second, war industries third and retail lumber dealers fourth, so if the needs of the war remain paramount, local lumber supplies will be depleted rapidly by the granary demand and refilled slowly because of lack of materials.

WHERE TO REGISTER

Registration offices are being set up by electoral districts in the same manner as in the last Dominion election.

Registrants are required to register in the regular polling subdivisions of their own constituencies. But should a registrant be in some other province or district out of the regular polling subdivision on Registration Days, he or she may register at any registration office convenient, upon satisfactory explanation to the local deputy registrar.

Penalty for Non-Registration — Failure to register will make any male or female, married or single, over the age of 16 years, liable to a fine not exceeding Two hundred dollars, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding Three months, or to both such fine and imprisonment, and moreover to a further penalty not exceeding Ten dollars for each day, after the day upon which he should have registered, during which he shall continue to be unregistered.

HEARTS WALKING

Mrs. Harry Pugh Smith

CHAPTER XVIII

Mr. Clive Sanders elected to entertain his party for dinner that night in the main dining room of the hotel. There were elaborate hothouse flowers for a centerpiece and every variety of costly delicacy. Jim could not bear to look at the check, but every one saw the ten dollar tip which the maitre-d'hôtel laid beside his plate.

There was only one awkward moment, precipitated by Helen. "It's so funny to think of my mother in law clanking in a store," she observed.

Anne saw Jim stiffen as if he had been shot in the back. "I mean," Helen explained, "one knows saleswomen must have private lives like everyone else, only one never realizes it, does one?"

It was Tony Ryan who leaped a little forward and lazily put a period to Helen's remark. "One wonders," he drawled, imitating perfectly the cool of her honeyed voice, "how one ever manages to breathe the common air when one's so la di da."

Helen knitted her brows and stared at him. "Are you by any chance taking a crack at me, Mr. Ex Prizefighter?"

"What do you think?" murmured Tony.

Mr. Sanders, aware of the signs of a tempest beginning to form about his daughter's exquisite brow interposed hastily. "What shall we do with the rest of the evening?" he asked awkwardly.

"I want to go somewhere and dance," said Helen in a fretful manner. "I think mixed parties are a frightful bore," reached over and pulled Jim closer. "Darling, take me where we can waltz and waltz in each other's arms and forget other people. They seem so unnecessary."

They went in the end to The Golden Pheasant because it was the only reputable night club in town. There were cheap roadhouses, but nothing to compare to the rocco blue and gilt of the Golden Pheasant.

Jim's arms felt particularly leaden when he took Helen into them. He could never remember a day which had left him so exhausted, both physically and mentally. He was as tired as if he had been dragged forcibly through one knot hole after another as they danced off.

"Sorry," he said miserably. "I'm afraid I stepped on your toe."

"You did," snapped Miss Helen Sanders.

"I'm getting a headache," she said crossly, "and it's all your fault, you and your poor relations."

Jim was very white. "Let me give you a warning. You can call me names, but don't make the error again of sneering at my mother."

Something in Jim's face brot her up. "Darling," she cried after his fluster. Gently he actually quarreling, and we were with—they said you were going to marry that Sanders girl," stammered Cathy.

"I'm not going to marry any one except you, Cathy, if you'll have me," said Jim. "I love you."

"I've been blind, Cathy," he groaned. "I almost lost you."

He drew her to him. She was shaking like a shy frightened child. He stopped and kissed her. Her lips were as sweet and fresh as Danny's. There was no torment in Cathy's kisses, only ecstasy.

It was the next night. Berenice was pacing her living room floor. She had had almost no rest for two weeks.

"If I could only go to sleep and forget for a while," she whispered.

She was going to take only two veronals, she told herself. It was not as if she meant to have some rest. She moved slowly toward the bathroom.

She kept looking over her shoulder and shivering.

She opened the medicine cabinet. Her hands rattled on the glass shelves. She picked up the first tube and emptied the contents into her palm. There were only four tablets.

She filled a glass with water. She put the tablets in her mouth and drank the water. She kept watching her drawn face in the mirror. She felt no different. Her brain was still crawling with thoughts.

"I have to have some rest," she whispered.

She picked up the other tube. It was over half full. She emptied it jerkily into her mouth and drank mere water. She had a terrible time swallowing. She kept drinking water till all the tablets were gone.

Berenice went back into the living room and lay down on the couch. She closed her eyes. She thought, in a few moments I'll go off to sleep. Only she did not feel sleepy. Her head began to swell. It felt giddy as if it were floating away from her body.

Somehow she was going down the street. She did not remember how she got there. After a while she was standing at the bottom of the back stairs at the flat. She sat down on the lower landing. She could scarcely get up. She was drowsy at last terribly drowsy. She had reached the point where she could sleep anywhere and she had forgotten why she had ever thought it necessary to climb the stairs, but her sick brain clung to its fixed idea.

"God to get to Mother," she whispered and pulled herself step by step on the stairs.

The screen door at the back was latched. Berenice's body was numb from relief as she waited. She glanced longingly at the porch chair. Nobody would disturb her there before morning. No one ever came out on the back porch late at night.

"M-m-m-m-m," she whispered and stamped to her knees, and then forward on her face.

NEED OF CENTRE LINE ON ALBERTA ROAD

Put Alberta in step with other parts of the country, especially states south of the border. Action along this line has been initiated by the Alberta Motor Association which has called up on the provincial government to make a start at the centre lining of main highways.

The situation was discussed at a meeting of A.M.A. provincial directors at Edmonton recently, when board members from all parts of the province attended.

Finally, a resolution was passed urging the government to make an early start at marking a centre line on the main highways.

Memberg suggested that a start could be made on curves, and hills, and the marking extended as rapidly as possible to other sections of the main highways system.

During the discussion it was pointed out that visitors from the United States were quick to notice the indiscriminate driving all over the roads here, due to the absence of a centre line. This condition in Alberta also served to aggravate the driving menace.

The listed capacity of terminals at Fort William and Port Arthur is 92,622,000 bushels. The largest volume ever stored there was about four million bushels less. On July 19th there was about 750 million bushels of wheat in store there, and two million bushels of corn grain.

WEEKLY LETTER

Control of Poultry Mites

Summertime is a lovely time for insects and similar small organisms. To the farm poultry keeper the insects may appear to be a blessing as the birds use them for feed. On the other hand warm summer weather provides perfect conditions for development of mites and these are far from being a blessing to either the poultry or the poultry keeper.

Mites are small blood sucking parasites, commonly found in poultry houses especially during summer months. They cause serious damage to the birds by puncturing the skin and sucking blood and if they are very numerous they reduce egg production, cause the birds to lose condition and in extreme cases may even cause death. In addition to their direct effect they may have an indirect effect by transmitting disease from bird to bird. This is because the mite do not stay attached to individual birds as they feed, but leave the bird after each feed. As there is no evidence to indicate that they have a homing instinct and return to the same bird all the time, it can be seen that the possibility of spreading disease is very real.

Mites spend their non feeding periods in cracks and crevices; in walls, roosts, nests and other suitable places in the poultry house. Therefore, birds may be examined without the mites being detected, whereas if cracks and crevices are examined whole families of mites may be discovered. If they have just had a feed they will be red in colour but otherwise they will be greyish white.

Control measures consist of a thorough cleaning of the house roosts, nests and other movable equipment in the house should be removed and thoroughly scrubbed. Nesting material and litter should be burned and the walls especially near the roosts and nests should be thoroughly scrubbed. Then these areas as well as the roosts and nests should be liberally sprayed with a strong disinfectant solution. A sprayer is more satisfactory than a brush or boom for the application of the solution as better penetration of cracks can be obtained, and unless the solution reaches the innermost parts of the cracks and nests mites will escape. Carbolic acid is fairly effective in killing mites though a disinfectant added to the oil is more desirable.

Too much stress cannot be laid on mite control at this time of the year, as the mites are widely distributed and can cause serious losses in a poultry flock. Control can be effective if care is used so there is no excuse for poultry suffering from the attacks of this parasite.

The clouds which looked like rain Thursday morning gave way to bright skies during the forenoon.

Over $1,800.00 was stolen from the Craigmyle, Alta. post office when the safe was blown open Monday morning. R.C.M.P. officials are investigating. Craigmyle is 60 miles east of Calgary on the Goose Lake line.

Trucks and wagons have taken out a lot of lumber in the last two weeks, presumably for grain bins, in view of the plugged conditions of elevators.

A.E. Russell, Registration Officer for the Lethbridge district was a Raymond visitor last Saturday during the rain, and conferred with local officials respecting the work here.

A PLEASANT EXPERIENCE AT OLDS

by Barbara Turner

On Saturday, July 20, I started my trip to the Olds School of Agriculture. At Lethbridge all the boys and girls from Southern Alberta were met by Mr. Benn, who accompanied us the rest of the way to Olds.

Arriving about 10 p.m. we were given rooms in the dormitory, each girl choosing a roommate, mine being Maxine Lash, of Magrath. Our rooms were furnished very comfortably and we were treated in such a way as to make us feel perfectly at home.

Sunday morning between nine and ten forty was spent in inspecting the grounds. They were beautiful with the bright array of colors against the spacious green lawns, with trees and hedges in the background. On the other side of the hedges we will find the large stock barns and pastures, accommodating cattle, sheep, horses and swine of the best breeds.

At eleven we were taken to church, followed by being shown around the town.

The afternoon and evening were spent in getting acquainted and playing out of door games.

During the week days we had a regular schedule. Rising bell was at seven, physical training followed, consisting of games, exercises and tumbling.

At nine classes started, the girls taking sewing and cooking with a physical training period between the two classes. We took six classes a day. In our sewing periods we sewed "Dutch Aprons" and in cooking we prepared soups and salads and baked cake and rolls. We followed the same routine in the afternoon.

Our evenings were taken up with various entertainments such as community singing, moving pictures, dancing and programmes. The movies were very interesting. Mr. Holston had a collection of pictures taken of the students in their classes, and displaying their work. The films of Jasper and Banff National Parks showed beautiful scenery in the majestic heights of the mountains, and Grey Owl with his beaver friends.

On Friday night we had a big final program in which most of the students preformed. At the end of the program the scholarships were awarded two students receiving seventy five dollars a piece toward attending the winter course.

The week passed by so quickly that when Saturday morning arrived and we were to go home it seemed like we had just arrived.

Our journey home was quite the same as our trip up to the school, other than a two hour stop we had at Calgary, all being given an opportunity to go through St. George's park and see the Zoo with its many animals and birds.

The Municipal road grading outfit pulled into town last Friday from the north part of the district and went south this week to do some work between here and the ridge.

Reports from Australia relate that dry weather has been prevailing over a large area of the wheat belt and germination has been very poor. The months of May and June were exceptionally dry, and July has failed to provide general relief from the drought. Consequently there is much uncertainty about the wheat prospects for the ensuing year.

THE SEARLE INDEX

The Searle Index of the price of "Things Farmers Buy" (147 items) now stands at 136, 1913-1914 equals 100, which means that these things cost farmers in the West, at the present time 36 per cent more than they did in 1914 before the Great War. (In September 1939, the index number was 131.) The price of wheat—No. 1 Northern—of July 17th, basis the open market price, is now 23 per cent lower than it was in 1913-14. This means therefore that a bushel of wheat in Western Canada now has a purchasing power in relation to "The things Farmers Buy" of 56 per cent in relation with the purchasing power of 100 that it had before the war.

NATIONAL REGISTRATION MARK GAS FUNDS FOR ROAD PROJECTS

On August 19, 20 and 21 a great army of Canadian people, all those, male or female, over the age of 16 will move out to the points of registration and fill in the cards containing a number of questions.

Why is this registration taking place? This country is at war. It must put forth the utmost possible effort to accomplish its purpose. That purpose is the defeat of the enemy.

In order to do this it must marshal the full forces of the nation—all the human, moral, material and spiritual forces of Canada.

There can be no slacking. We need more planes, tanks and ammunition. To produce them we need more men, women, materials, money. The nation must produce more, spend less, and be frank about it, pay more taxes.

Then it is necessary that our young men should be trained for home defence. They will be called up at an early date for a brief period of intensive military training.

Yes, we are at war. Registration means simply organization for greater effort—for victory. Register early. To answer the questions takes only a few minutes' work if you come prepared to answer. Read the questions in this paper and know the answers you have to make before you go to register. Where so many must give their all you will not hesitate in doing your part.

Growing tomatoes above and potatoes underneath on the same vine or plant is the experience of Paul Pralinsky of Athol, Mass. Apparently the vegetable kingdom is joining the drive for greater efficiency.

Long urged by the Alberta Motor Association, the "ear-marking" of revenues from gasoline tax and motor licenses for road purposes has won support from a fresh and powerful source.

This is found in the report of the McGillivray royal commission which investigated conditions in the oil industry in this province last year, at the request of the provincial government.

One of the main recommendations in the commission's lengthy report is that gasoline tax revenue should be specifically earmarked for road construction and maintenance purposes. This is just what the A.M.A. has been advocating in this province for many years.

Another point of interest to the motoring public is the recommendation concerning fuel standards. The commission has recommended that if such are adopted, the oil industry should be consulted, and standards set as minimums should be strictly enforced.

It Could Have Been Avoided!

Second in The Recorder's series of drawings illustrating actual railway crossing accidents which have taken a toll of life on the prairies recently, and which might have been avoided with ordinary care, appears a bove. The driver of an automobile drew up at a wayside crossing while a long freight train was passing and waited while a number of box cars went streaming past. Then came a break in the moving wall before him and he started his car, only to crash into one of several flat cars which went to make up the train. Two persons were fatally injured in this accident because of impatience and carelessness combined on the part of the driver. It could have been avoided him and he started his car, only to
